Our Expertise

bitComposer Games, with its head office in Eschborn near Frankfurt, Germany, is an independent publisher of PC and video games. Founded in March 2009, the company focuses on the international marketing of software entertainment products for the classic PC, console and handheld platforms as well as online and browser-based games. bitComposer Games works with experienced development teams and service providers worldwide to develop in-house projects, licensed titles and commissioned productions.

The core team in the publishing area of bitComposer is currently made up of 13 employees who manage the marketing, licensing, sales and production sectors. The diverse bitComposer portfolio comprises 17 titles, including games such as the Wii and PC version of the famous TV show »Schlag den Raab« (Beat Your Host) and the sequel to the successful Wildlife Park series »Wildlife Park 3«. In February 2010 bitComposer Games secured the global rights to the Jagged Alliance license and will be publishing Jagged Alliance: Back in Action, a contemporary take on the classic 1999 game, and much more. The first multi-platform title Air Conflicts: Secret Wars will arrive in stores in mid 2011, and fans of »Schlag den Raab« can expect a second game in late Q4.
